John Robinson, of Spokane, is visiting for a few weeks at the home of his niece, Mrs. E. C. Keller, west of town.

Word has been received from Rev. Father Smith, who left High River recently for the old country for a four months' vacation. At the time of writing he was visiting at Hampstead.

Rev. Father Beausoliel who went overseas in 1914 and fought with the French army during the first years of the war and who was transferred later to the Canadian army, is stationed at Winnipeg. His many friends around High River are anxious to have him back at High River for a time.

Calgary painters and sign writers have been engaged the past week on the Motor Inn of W. F. Jennejohn, giving the same a new coat of paint and relettering the signs. Mr. Jennejohn also had them letter some large road signs which will be placed at conspicuous corners at the outside entrances to the Village for advertising purposes.

The Wholesale Grocery Co.'s business, having so increased that it was found necessary to secure larger quarters, Mr. Bucher has consequently taken over the building formerly occupied by the Beardsley Barber Shop, which he is having re-arranged to suit his growing trade. The same is now receiving a coat of paint and new lettering is being put on the front. Mr. Bucher expects to soon have the same ready for occupancy and will then be better able to supply his customers.

WEDDINGS

GILBERTSON—WILLIAMS

At the home of the groom's sister, Mrs. James Burk of Milo, a very quiet though pretty wedding was solemnized on the morning of Wednesday, Sept. 10th, when Miss Viola E. Gilbertson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Giberson of Bristol, N. B. was united in marriage to Mr. Stephen Williams, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. John Williams of Milo, by Rev. E. Davidge of Queenstown district. Owing to the recent bereavement in the groom's family, and the absence of the bride's parents, the ceremony was performed in the presence of the groom's immediate local relatives only. The young couple were attended by Miss Jessie J. Burk, who acted as bride's maid and Clarence Umeheld, who acted as groom's man. The bride was prettily dressed in old gold satin and georgette and the bride's maid in chocolate silk taffeta.

At the close of the service a dainty wedding breakfast was served in the cheery dining room, after which the happy couple left in the groom's car for a visit to Calgary and an extensive tour of the places of scenic beauty in and around the Rocky Mountain Canadian National Parks—the bride travelling in a tailored suit of smoke colored serge. On returning from their mountain trip they will take up residence in the home of the groom and will be at home to their many friends in the district. Sincerest wishes and hearty congratulations are extended to these newly weds by their numerous friends throughout the district.

OLSEN—HOUSE

The wedding took place on Sunday Sept. 24, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn House at Buffalo Hills of the daughter, Mamie Eady to Mr. Olaf Olsen of Kirkcaldy. The Rev. Mr. Lyale performed the ceremony. The bride's dress was of white silk trimmed with pink rosebuds and chiffon combined.

Mr. Clyde House supported the groom and Miss Emily House acted as bridesmaid. Mr. and Mrs. Olsen left for Banff where they will spend a few days before starting on a visit to Mr. Olsen's parents in Sweden. They expect to be gone about two months before returning to Kirkcaldy, where they will reside.

Prince in High River

Big Crowd and Becoming Ceremonies

High River again did credit to itself in the reception tendered H. R. H. the Prince of Wales on Monday last, Sept. 15th, when for three hours in the afternoon all places of business were deserted and all attention was given to make the affair one long to be remembered by both young and old.

The town was bestir early in the morning when groups of men and merchants began to decorate the different buildings on the line of march and the station and surrounding grounds, where the official proceedings were to be held, and by noon these thoroughfares and buildings were arrayed in gala attire the like of which High River had never before experienced. Bunting and streamers were used in profusion and the different business men and other citizens, who so earnestly entered into the spirit of the occasion are to be congratulated on their efforts, as the town really presented an attractive appearance. The Triumphal Arch at the square of the C. P. R. lawn was artistically decorated and when the children were assembled on the lawn proper the sight was an inspiring one. Two bands served to keep the big crowd in good humor while awaiting the arrival of the Royal Train, and when finally, about 4:45 P. M. the same made its appearance, a grand cheer rent the air, the bands began to play and the children joined in song as the train made its way to the station. The opening scene was a grand one and elicited the spontaneous congratulations of the visitors, one of whom remarked that it was the prettiest and most successful reception tendered the Prince since his arrival in the west.

The guard of honor composed of Great War Veterans, were drawn up in line on the platform, together with the group of High River officials composed of the Mayor and Common Council, who received the Prince on his appearance from his car. A few formal remarks and hand-shakes and the Prince then devoted his attention to the veterans, shaking each by the hand, looking each in the eye and passing some complimentary remarks to each and endeavoring to locate some personal recognition of possible slight acquaintance at the front, and in this latter it was stated that he was successful. The formalities over with, he was led to the lawn by the Mayor, handed the gilded spade, and proceeded to shovel the first spadefuls on the newly planted evergreen tree, which will hereafter be a monument to his visit to High River. He was then taken to the waiting automobiles and with his party proceeded on their way to the Bar U ranch where he is to be the guest of Mr. George Lane for a day. The Prince, by his thoroughly democratic appearance in both dress and manners, immediately enthroned himself in the hearts of the large crowd present, who were greatly impressed with his open manner and lack of strict formality. He was attired in a grey business suit and soft fedora hat and because of this unpretentious appearance was not at first glance recognized by many of the onlookers, who were fully prepared to witness a more characteristic dress than the one assumed, but it pleased the masses and they at once felt that he was after all a human being and one of their own kind, and his every move thereafter was the occasion of satisfaction. He will not soon be forgotten by all those who saw him, particularly the ladies, who were much taken with him from the start. The children grouped on either side of the lawn and representing about all the towns and villages in the district, were the greatest attraction to the Prince, who addressed them shortly and requested a holiday for them in recognition of his coming. They truly presented an animated and pretty picture and rendered the songs allotted them with precision and earnestness. They were a good part of the picture setting, and it is a credit to the officials in charge that they were so located as to get a good look at the Prince, who will some day be their future King. It was an event for the children which they will never forget, but was at first a little

Awarded Mil. Cross

Captain G. Wainwright Receives Medal from Prince

Captain G. Wainwright, who enlisted with the 31st Battalion in 1914 and returned along last Christmas time to Vulcan, and who has been acting as Weed Inspector in this district, was presented with the Military Cross by H. R. H. the Prince of Wales in Calgary on Monday morning last, Sept. 15th. The same was awarded him for conspicuous gallantry and great initiative in action at the battle of Amiens, Aug. 8th, 1918, where the Canadians covered themselves with glory. Capt. Wainwright is very proud of his medal, as he well may be, and is displaying the same to his friends about town. The Advocate congratulates the Captain.

More Rain

And Plenty of It on Last Friday Afternoon and Night

Another good rain, lasting for about twelve hours without a let-up and extending generally over the district, was had beginning Friday last, about 3:30 P. M. It was accompanied with a heavy wind which seemed to increase during the night, but it was not cold and crops and vegetation are flourishing in consequence. It was followed with summer-like weather which if continued, will serve to yet produce a bumper crop of oats in this country. Some good big yields of this are now being harvested and hundreds of acres are still standing green, the owners of which are determined to get a big crop or "bust"; and it now seems that all precedents will be broken and the district will show good returns after all. The feed question is settled. There is nothing to worry about on this score and if the heavy frost keeps away for a week or so longer, this country will have something to boast about.

disappointing for some who were looking for the "Fairy Prince" of whom they had heard so much. Much credit is also due Mr. McConnell for the manner in which he drilled and managed them. On the whole the entire affair was pulled off without a hitch and was an occasion in which High River can well feel proud.

PRINCE DAY NOTES

Turning to Mayor Williams the Prince enquired who was the person who conducted the children in their singing. He remarked he would like to meet him, as he must have had a lot of work in connection with the drilling of the children, so the Mayor requested Mr. McConnell to step forward.

To Mr. McConnell the Prince expressed great pleasure at the enthusiasm of the children who sang so well, and he asked Mr. McConnell to arrange a holiday at some time when it suited the scholars.

Of Mayor Williams after planting the tree he enquired if any members of the band were returned soldiers. Three members stepped forth upon request of the Mayor and the Prince shook hands and chatted pleasantly with them, asking where they had served and how long since they were discharged. He displayed a keen interest in the Veterans and talked to them like an old pal.

The evergreen tree which was deposited in proper place, was awaiting the pleasure of the Prince. Taking up the gilded spade, he enquired earnestly of the Mayor if he was supposed to shovel all the loose earth on the tree. Mayor Williams put him at ease by informing him that they only expected him to shovel one or two shovelfuls, to which he replied: "That's fine, because, you know, I have a lame arm."

Councillor Thompson auctioned off the spade the Prince used in planting the memorial tree and the bidding was spirited. It was finally knocked down to Mr. Joseph Limoges of High River, who will cherish it as a memento of the Prince's visit to High River.

CURFEW

The Curfew Bell started tolling its warning to young folks under the age of sixteen on Wednesday evening as determined by the village fathers, and no serious infractions of the requirement have so far been reported and no sad consequences to the enjoyment of home life have been heard. The children will soon accustom themselves to the new conditions which will eventually result in much good to their moral well being. Some outside amusements should be afforded the younger element of the Village however, as there now seem to be no special attractions for them. They need good wholesome outdoor activities which are attractive and the City fathers should make some effort to see that they get it. With their minds turned to uplifting and worthy pastimes and associations there is no need to fear any infractions of the moral laws, which are usually the results of "nothing to do" and "no place to go". Parents also can do much toward relieving this unrest and seeming uneasiness in children, by making their home life more attractive; by making it the first place a child cares to go. They can and should be interested in all the undertakings of their children, and foster and guide them in their work and play and display an interest in all their doings. Its this spirit that develops a thorough and implicit confidence in the child toward its parents and inspires he or she to follow the suggestions which are made. The time has passed where the rod is the ruling force in the rearing of children. An appeal to their better senses, with a plausible reason for actions, based upon a complete understanding between parent and child, is the better and most satisfactory, as well as pleasant correction of the child. Let parents be "chummy" with their children. Let them be playmates and workmates with them and not rulers of the stern methods. Treat their thoughts and actions becoming their younger years and remember their little minds have not as yet developed to meet the serious sides of life and are as yet in an embryo state, susceptible of such changes as the parents may wish to develop. Do not forget, also, that you were once a child yourself.

WORK—NOT GRATUITY

No one who has fought for democracy in France wants to sponge off democracy at home. Our soldiers want work, not charity. They asked favors of no man before they went abroad; they are not in a mood to ask for or accept them now. The stripes that they wore or still wear, whether they be of gold or of silver, were earned in service, some of it of such a character that no amount of money could pay for it or secure it. Having done all that was required of them, they want to get back to work, to take up the task of providing for their families, to marry and build homes of their own, to lay plans to dream dreams. They are just men and boys in spite of having been actors in the biggest drama since creation, and they feel about these things just as anybody else does. They want to work, and they expect to be paid for working, a full citizen's wage. All but a negligible number of them were working when we called them into our service; they are entitled to at least as good a place on the payroll as they left. If there is not enough work at present more work should be created. It ill becomes us who stayed at home to hesitate to risk our money because prices are high when these boys of ours offered their lives—every last one of the four million of them. Big enterprises are of course in the hands of the capitalists, but every one of us can make work by going ahead with the things we have control of—remodeling, building, painting, papering, buying new stoves and furnaces and furniture and everything else we need. Prices are not coming down much until all this turmoil of war is settled and the world has experienced anew the blessedness of peace. There will come a time when the things that have been broken and destroyed are all replaced, when life is again at normal everywhere, when agencies of production will have to look for new markets. Then prices may come down. But no man can say when that time will come or that it will not be preceded by a social readjustment that will forever keep prices at a high level. No man can read the future. Everyone can see the need and the danger of the present. By working together we can meet the need and avert the danger. You can't say, "Let George do it." Make a job, for a soldier yourself.

NEW PENSIONS ACT

The new pension act came into effect on September 1st. At every stage, Canadian pensions have been much higher than those of any other country and the enactment made last session further enhances Canada's position in this respect. A twenty per cent. increase is allowed for one year for ex-privates in order to offset the high cost of living, and approximately a thirteen per cent. increase for those who held the rank of sergeant. An increase in the pension for the first orphan child is also provided for. Under the new rate, it will be $360 per year instead of $288, while the pension for the second child will be $240, and for the third and each subsequent child $192. The Board is very anxious that wide publicity be given to the fact that no charges are to be made for services rendered pension applicants unless these are first submitted to it for approval. Those who make such charges without first submitting them are liable to a fine of $500 or six months' imprisonment, or both.

PRODUCE OR GO BANKRUPT

With Canada confronted with the staggering national debt of nearly two billion dollars and with the Canadian dollar worth about 93 cents, it is time a halt was called. At the present time we are earning less, and spending more than we receive, and we are consuming more and producing less, and until all our people get busy and work and produce these conditions will continue to exist. Every man who remains idle is placing difficulties in the way of a recovery. Unless we produce more Canada will become a bankrupt.

GRATUITIES

Premier Borden's declaration that the government could not consider any further bonuses to returned soldiers, and further, that the request of the G. W. V. A. of Canada for a royal commission to investigate the demands of the Veterans for an additional bonus, could not be granted, has stirred up a belligerent attitude among all the G. W. V. A. members throughout the Dominion and meetings are being held in the different cities and towns for the purpose of making formal protest against such determinations.

Mr. J. Ogden Armour expresses the opinion that the downward trend of food prices will continue. Though it is hard for the consumer to look at the matter in this light after the trying experience through which he has been going, it ought to be recognized that the collapse in prices can be too rapid and that panicky business conditions, with attendant unemployment may result from it. It is the fear of this which prevents governments from deflating the currency except by slow degrees.

It has become a habit with many speakers of late to hash and rehash the statement about "misrepresentation of the press", then again one hears from the frothy-mouthed agitator, "the lying press". Personally we are of the opinion that one hears more misrepresentation from the platform than from the press, and so far as that is concerned we do not hesitate in saying that the press compares very favorably with the pulpit in that connection. When you hear a speaker resort to such expressions as "lying press" then you are safe in placing him in the class with a soap box orator.

In connection with the bonus of $2,000 to the returned soldiers it is to the credit of some of our Canadian born and others that they do not want the bonus if the finances of the country is such that it cannot be done. Many openly assert that they would not accept the bonus, as they realize the financial condition of the country is serious, and the payment thereof would mean a heavy responsibility on the part of a great majority of Canadians. If means could only be devised whereby the profiteer would be shorn of his ill-gotten profits and this money handed over to the soldiers then they would not object. Why not agitate for this plan?

MEETING OF PRESBYTERY

The Presbytery of High River met in Okotoks on Thursday, Sept. 11th, 1919. All the ministers of the Presbytery and a number of the elders were present.

It was agreed that hereafter we hold two stated meetings annually—one in February and the other in September.

Reports were received from all the mission fields within our bounds, and the workers commended for the good work done. The foothills Missionary being especially commended, for in addition to the regular work of the mission, he was carrying with him a circulating library, and distributing the books from home to home. He also delivered a series of lectures in the day schools within his parish monthly, the lectures being illustrated with lantern views, the slides for the same being supplied by the University, Edmonton.

Owing to impaired health, Rev. W. M. Reid, of Stavely tendered his resignation to take effect on October 31st, 1919. In accepting the resignation the members of the Presbytery expressed their high appreciation of the character of the work done by Mr. Reid since he came among us, and the hope that he would soon regain his wonted health. Rev. A. MacWilliams was appointed interim moderator of the session. The hope was expressed that a suitable man might soon be found to take up the work laid down by Mr. Reid, and that a larger field might be found for his activities.

Rev. A. R. Schrag tendered his resignation of the charge at Vulcan, the resignation to take effect the last day of September, 1919. Mr. Schrag has been called by the Assembly's Committee on the Forward Movement to the important position of Organizing Secretary of the Movement in Southern Alberta, a position for which, it is felt, he is particularly well adapted, and he has resigned his present charge to undertake that work. Mr. Schrag has been over three years in his present charge. Under his ministry the congregation has prospered greatly, rising from an ordained mission field to one of our strongest self-supporting congregations. Mr. Schrag has had the pleasure of seeing a new church begun and completed during his ministry there, and in leaving the field he has reason to feel that he is leaving the congregation in much better condition than he found it a little over three years ago. Mr. Kidd, of Okotoks, was appointed interim moderator during the vacancy.

Mr. Schrag addressed the Presbytery on the forward movement. After listening to him the Presbytery agreed not to push the financial objective of the Forward Movement until after the garnering of the next harvest; but in the meantime to seek to advance the educational, moral and spiritual aspects of the movement.

The following resolution in regard to the Great War Veterans Association was unanimously carried and a copy ordered sent to Sir Robert Borden, Premier of the Dominion of Canada:—That this Presbytery endorse the attitude of the Great War Veterans Association in asking for a gratuity, and deplores the attitude of Sir Robert Borden in refusing to meet the committee of the Great War Veterans sent down to Ottawa to confer with him and his associates, or a committee from the same.

THE VETERANS' TREATMENT
Hamilton Spectator: According to Hon. Arthur Meighen, Canada's war obligations to her soldiers through war gratuities is $180,000,000 more, in proportion than any other country in the world. To this will be added an equal amount through a land settlement scheme, which is now in course of fruition, 6,000—having already been placed on the land. Short of bankrupting the country it cannot be fairly stated that the Dominion is treating its defenders other than in the most liberal manner.

The chairman of the Board of Commerce asked the various Provincial Governments for their co-operation in the elimination of profiteering and we hope Alberta will get action. In Saskatchewan the Attorney-General notified Mr. Robson that the Provincial Police would take action as outlined by the Board and that he would be glad to act as prosecuting counsel in such cases as might arise in that province. In this connection we do not know what our Attorney-General's attitude is, but he cannot get busy too soon to suit the majority of our people.

H. R. H. THE PRINCE OF WALES' REPLY TO THE ADDRESS OF MAYOR AND CITIZENS OF HIGH RIVER

Mr. Mayor:

It is a great pleasure to me to be able to visit the town and district of High River, and I am most grateful to you for your cordial words of welcome.

I know from practical experience in the field what splendid troops are furnished in time of need by the great ranching centres of the west, and how valuable the special knowledge of ranchmen was in many of the tasks demanded of your soldiers on the Western Front. I congratulate you on the services which the gallant men of High River have rendered to Canada and the Empire in the great war. I would also express my lasting sympathy with those on whom the long ordeal has brought suffering or loss.

I thank you for your expressions of loyalty to my father, the King, and I wish you and the citizens of High River a happy and prosperous future.

Edward P

High River,
15th Sept., 1919.

The Oshawa Reformer says: No aggregation before the public will receive more genuine moral support, or more hearty applause than the new Board of Commerce, if they make a sincere and intelligent effort to round up the profiteers and put the brakes on the high cost of living runaway.

Passage by air still comes rather high. The aviator here on July 1st, charged a dollar a minute for a joy ride in the upper elements. Passage on the first airship to leave England for Rio de Janeiro is advertised at a thousand pounds sterling. But we shouldn't judge there would be much over-crowding at that price.

Someone has most wisely written: "Every man should have a graveyard of his own." In it he should bury all his mean thoughts, his hatreds, his animosities and his evil aspirations—bury them so deep there can be no resurrection. If you hear a bit of malicious gossip, bury it. If you have been nursing a feeling of hatred toward somebody for years, bury it. And when you have finally filled the graveyard with the worst that was in you, then you will find the world and all that goes to make it up a much better place to you than ever before.

West Cline, the barber at Beardsley's pool rooms, has gone to Nanton where he will open up a shop in the hotel there.

THANKS

The Village authorities wish to extend their thanks to all those automobile owners who so kindly responded to their call for cars to carry the school children to High River on Monday last to see the Prince. The good result was that all children who cared to go, and there were about one hundred of them, were accommodated without difficulty, and for which they are very grateful.

REMARKS OF HIS ROYAL HIGHNESS TO THE CHILDREN

"I am delighted to see so many children here to greet me and I have enjoyed their singing very much."

"I understand that many of you have come long distances to see me, and honor the father and Empire I represent."

"If it is agreeable to the school authorities, I would like the headmasters to give the children a holiday in memory of my visit here, at such a time as may seem to them most suitable;--not a half-holiday, nor Saturday, nor Sunday, nor regular holiday, but one just in commemoration of my visit."

PLEASED WITH CONDITIONS

Mr. W.G. Helliker, manager of the Royal Loan and Savings Co. of Brantford, Ont., spent several days of last week in High River. This company has operated extensively in Southern Alberta through their representatives here, Messrs. Ballachey and Burnett, and having a large amount of capital invested in farm loans. During his stay in High River he spent the greater portion of his time motoring through the country which afforded him an opportunity of personally inspecting a large number of his company's securities. He found these to be eminently satisfactory and expressed himself as highly pleased with the class of securities in which his company's funds were invested.

On account of the alarmist newspaper reports he was prepared for very adverse conditions and was very agreeably surprised to find that these reports were greatly exaggerated. Mr. Helliker had not visited High River since 1911 and he was very much impressed with the progress made, especially in the rural districts.

CANADA'S RAILWAY SYSTEM

Larger Canadianism is the plea made by D. B. Hanna, president of the Canadian National Railways, in an article published in this month's issue of MacLean's Magazine. He asks very pertinently if the people realize their ownership of the great transportation chain and wish to think of it as an asset or a liability. He argues strongly that the C. N. R. should be handled just as a privately owned railway, and that all the risks attendant upon the exploitation of such a private enterprise should be taken. He promises that the risks taken will result in a great future.

As Mr. Hanna says, the east and the west are still strangers to each other. The various sections of the Dominion have been so occupied with their own provincial problems that they have forgotten to think in national terms. That habit must pass and the time has come for complete co-operation.

A railway owned by the people and operated for the people is no mean chain to connect adequately all the parts of Canada. At the time when the railways first began to move westward, doubt of the possibility of opening up the western country was the common thing. The answer to these doubters has been magnificently made.

"Get acquainted with Canada," says Mr. Hanna. This invitation is to easterners and to westerners, tradesmen and members of parliament. Acquaintanceship will breed respect and understanding, and little provincial bickerings will disappear in a new conception of a splendidly united Canada.

FUGITIVE FOR 15 YEARS

An Indian outlaw, Simon Gun-a-not, who has been a fugitive from justice for fifteen years, has given himself up to the British Columbia police. The Government has spent $50,000 in trying to run him down. As during that period he claims he has never been outside the province, some idea of the difficulty of police work in provinces which have a large hinterland will be appreciated. The Indian is charged with the murder of two white traders near Hazelton. His defense is that he killed them because they gave his young wife liquor.

FROWNS ON SECESSION TALK

General Jan Smuts, who assumed the Premiership of South Africa upon the death of Premier Botha, warned the Hertog party of Secessionists that in America millions of lives had been sacrificed on the altar of secession. Two courses, he said, were open: Mutual co-operation or the path to secession. "We continue," said the Premier amidst cheers, "to stand by the treaty and our word of honor."

On the other hand, secession was a path leading to a broken South Africa, a discredited South Africa, and moreover, with a native population far outnumbering the white population.

NEWS FROM BLACKIE

Tom Hatcher has secured the contract for the building of the Gladys School. He will commence work in the near future.

Jack Brennan, of Dinton, brought to our elevator on Sept. 4th, the first load of 1919 wheat. The quality was No. 1 Northern and while the yield per acre was low yet he is pleased with the returns considering the dry year.

The crops north of town which were damaged by hail about a month ago have revived to such an extent that a bumper green crop will be harvested. You can't keep a good country down.

There is a strong demand among our farmers for milk cows. There is such an abundance of green feed that they cannot afford to market it.
Butter and cream will pay much better.

Through the generosity of automobile owners and as a result of an efficient organization all the school children in the town had the pleasure of taking part in the reception given the Prince of Wales at High River on Monday. The cars were decorated with flags and bunting and presented an animated picture as they left town. At High River the children were given preferred positions on the lawn and all of them saw the Prince face to face which event will live green in their memory.

Blackie now has a resident medical practitioner in the person of Dr. Auld, formerly of Staveland, who will be kept quite busy looking after the health of the people of Blackie and community.

Mr. Goulter, having bought the store occupied by M. Martin, intends to move into it about the 1st of October. Mr. Martin will move into the Hatcher store.

Mr. F. Rockafellow has bought Mr.
Goulter's residence on Aberdeen St., and Mr. Goulter will try living in "apartments" for a while.

The Blackie dance, held on Friday night was not as well attended as expected but those present enjoyed themselves thoroughly and the Hurl-bert's orchestra are becoming more popular with continued service.

Sinnott McDonald has left his position at the Drug Store and gone to Calgary in search of more schooling.
According to reports there must have been a cloudburst last Wednesday evening northeast of Blackie.

Blackie intends to be in the front line regarding Sports Day for 1920.
The townspeople, under the able direction of J. Schmidt, are forming an Agricultural Society with shares at $100 each, the intention being to buy 15 acres of land adjoining town which has a good 1/2 mile race track on it and this addition to the present recreation grounds will make a nice nucleus toward a 'best ever' annual Sports Day.

Mr. West Meyers has added another addition to his efficient garage in the form of a Wayne Gasoline Pump and patrons can now fill up with "Okotols" without stopping.

Mrs. Jas. Hogg has a story book entitled "In the Teeth of Adventure", a story of adventure which belonged to the Prince of Wales years ago and which she received from the Aberdeen Association at Hamilton, Ont., in 1912. This Association made a point of supplying books and magazines to the settlers in the west and Mrs. Hogg, being interested, was in receipt of books at every possible interval. When they received this book from Queen Mary they decided to give it to Mrs. Hogg, who had a large family and always evinced an interest in the institution. Naturally Mrs. Hogg places a high value on the book.

It seems strange how little regard is shown the farmer. Men will drive anywhere on the farm with their autos, regardless of the damage they do, shoot right next to teams working in the fields, go right through the barnyard with dog and gun. It is time to call a halt.

U. F. A. MEETING

Mr. W. M. Seller, Supervisor of Cooperative credits, will address the farmers of the Vulcan district on Saturday afternoon, Sept. 20, at 2:30 P. M. at the Oddfellows Hall, on the matter of organizing a co-operative credit society at this point. The matter has been discussed to a certain extent previously, and it is hoped that a great many of the farmers will turn out to this meeting to help decide definitely whether to organize this society or not.

TAKE A GOOD LONG LOOK

At the entrance to the toy department of a New York store are two mirrors. One makes you look tall and slim, the other short and fat.
Their object is to bring a laugh, which of course they do, but into the grownup's mind there creeps the thought, "Suppose I were like that." There are mirrors that do not distort that bring a question, too. Sometimes we see ourselves in the mirror of another man's life, and our own life stands out sharp and clear. Sometimes it is the mirror of the past, and we see lost opportunities; sometimes it is the future and we see possibilities. These things are good for us. And it is well sometimes to look into the mirror that another is measuring himself by, particularly if it is a nation that is studying itself and resolving that it will never look like that again. Look into this mirror which the "London Nation" held up before the people of England in 1916.

"...It was commonly said before the war, when this or that reform was proposed, that the taxpayer could not stand it, or industry could not stand it, or public opinion was not ready for it. The war has shown us how hollow many of these objections were, how timidly we had estimated our powers and resources, and it has brought home to us the sovereign importance of the quality of a nation's life. We cannot repeat that mistake today. 'If we are determined to rear a healthy and virile race, of high capacity,' says Sir George Newman, 'we must, from a physical standpoint, begin earlier and continue later than the hitherto accepted period of education. What is needed, indeed, is an effective supervision and a sound practical training of the body from the end of infancy to adolescence. It is said sometimes that, in the interest of economy, the State can not afford such a scheme. My submission is that, in the interest of economy, the State can not afford to neglect a complete scheme.' That is the spirit in which the nation has to face its future. We count our youth with feverish anxiety today, for our boys of eighteen are not the property of this or that employer, or the disused and discarded instruments of this or that wasteful trade, but the arm of a nation fighting for its life. How shall we think of them tomorrow? Will we think of them again as van-boys, errand boys, piercers' or riveters' boys in whom the nation takes no interest, for whom it feels no concern, for whom school life and its games and its ambitions come to an end as soon as an employer can find a use for their fingers or their muscles? Or shall we think of our youth as boys and girls, the promise of men and women, whose minds and bodies no nation can afford to squander?"

What does a boy or girl of sixteen mean to you?

William Frederick Bigelow

BUILDING ACTIVITY IN U. S.

Mr. B. P. Whedon, who is connected with one of the largest maple flooring and lumbering concerns in the U.
S., returned to Bay City on Monday, after spending a week with his daughter, Mrs. C. A. Farquharson. Mr.
Whedon states that building activity in the States at the present time is unparalleled in the history of the country. There is no prospect of a reduction in the price of lumber and the people realize that fact and are becoming accustomed to the present scale of prices and are building up to the limit. The concern with which he is connected are obliged to refuse orders amounting to millions of feet because they cannot supply the demand.

AN OPTIMISTIC OUTLOOK

Mr. E. P. Winslow, the general superintendent of the Bank of Montreal, joins those who deprecate the pessimistic reports which have been circulated regarding Alberta crop conditions. He is in a position to know, having travelled steadily for the past two months throughout this province and Saskatchewan, and looks for a large return from the season's efforts.
While in High River he made close enquiries and discussed conditions here with some of our most prominent stockmen and farmers, thus getting first hand information, which, after all, is the only reliable source from which to gain knowledge of a district.

The Imperial are erecting on their premises to the east of the Village two large 88,000 gallon steel tanks, one for coal oil and the other for gas.
The Imperial Oil Co. evidently have no fear of the future destiny of Vulcan.

Coal prices are going up. An advance of 15c per ton was made at the mines today.

M. D. OF RILEY MEETING

The Council Board for the Municipal District of Riley No. 159 met in the Oddfellows Hall, Cayley. Members of the Board present—May, Blake, Christofferson, Phillips and Scott. Meeting called at 2:30 by the Reeve. The minutes of last regular meeting read by secretary and were approved as read. A letter from Mrs. Josephine Frank asking that she be placed under the Widows' Allowance Fund brought forth a great deal of discussion. The secretary was finally authorized to further communicate with the authorities on the matter.

The road construction problems came in for a lot of discussion and criticism. The brand by-law was again brought up by the secretary and the appointing of poundkeepers for the several Divisions were proceeded with. A copy of same will appear in this journal as soon as same is sanctioned by the Minister of Municipal Affairs. Mr. Keith Nelson was granted $40 for land taken by the Council in 1915 for a deviation in the road allowance.

As it is now necessary under the new Municipal Act, that the Supplementary Revenue Tax, the Wild Land Tax and the Educational Tax must be levied according to land values, also that general assessment must be made prior to June 1st, 1920, it was found necessary that the assessment be made during the fall of 1919. Wm. Caspell was appointed assessor for the Municipal District of Riley No. 159 and said assessment is to be made during the fall of 1919, the remuneration for same to be $65 per Tp. for each Tp. assessed. The secretary was authorized to pay the following accounts: John Scott $50; M. Hicks $45.60; P. M. Sorkilmo $44.80; H. C. Wingate $18.60; R. J. Hendry $75.60; R. E. Nevers $73.80; A. H. Snalgard $858.00; A. M. Wickson $92.00; Geo. Easton $56; Frank Sim $28; F. De Paoli $7; Wm. Murdock $21; J. A. Bishop $22; A. Black $8; Count De Forest $20; J. B. Maxwell $25; N. J. McLaren $11; R. Chaffee 3.75; A. Peaterson $3; Hans Christofferson $90; John Williams $52; R. B. McLeod $67; Wm. Campbell $101; S. Kebbler $63; B. C. Miller $122.50; H. Palmer $2; United Grain Growers $4.50; J. H. Partridge $102.25; Skov Lumber Co. $17.40; Marshall & Son $18.10

C. Roy was re-elected deputy reeve for the balance of 1919. Board adjourned to meet early in Oct. at call of the secretary.

Wm. Caspell,
Secretary.

SELFISHNESS AND THE H. C. L.

Government after government, committee after committee, investigation after investigation, one hot on the heels of the other, are striving to get to the bottom or locate the cause of the present high cost of living. One after the other they render verdicts or establish causes triggered out in logical reasoning that do nothing but hopelessly tangle the issue seriously threatening the equilibrium of reconstruction. And despite all the fluent denunciations, reports of investigations and threatening words, we have yet to hear of a trapped profiteer. And we have yet to see the reason for this approaching universal catastrophe set down in cold print in so many clear concise words. Excess profits, profiteers, strikes and counter-strikes, Reds and Bolsheviks, exorbitant prices and scarcity of commodities—What's the answer? It is impossible that out of all the investigations staged at the public behest that none of the sleuths have discovered the fundamental reason or reasons for the unnatural conditions prevailing in this and other countries. The majority were men selected for the job because of their special ability along such lines. But as all their reports are nothing but glaring subterfuges, that fight shy of the responsibility of a definite, truthful statement that would clamp the blame where it belongs, we are lead to the conclusion they are afraid of something directly connected thereto. Would it be amiss to surmise from their patently guarded statements that they are threatened and hampered by the very interests they have unearthed at the bottom of the so-called profiteering system? In our opinion the whole business—strikes, riots, excess profits, O. B. U., Bolshevism itself disguised under the mask of universal equality—is nothing more nor less than selfishness in its vilest form—a form so degrading that pigs at the trough would disdain to avail themselves of such methods.

The spirit surrounding the "jackpot" opened at Versailles by the peace conference, where all the national representatives held a hand, bluffing, coining, threatening, even bolting, eyes covetously glued on the pot—that spirit has run amuck around the world, and as a few calm and judicious men held it in leash in the conference, so must it be determinedly dealt with now, regardless of petty individual interests. Money and power madness, which is the form this selfishness has assumed, must be stamped into oblivion by that process which gave it birth, i. e., vigorous, relentless legislation equivalent to that of war-time which made every man produce a registration card upon demand or face a court of inquiry. Public opinion said that couldn't be done but its surprising what a small percentage of successful draft dodgers survived the rigorous, impartial treatment that characterized the government's action on this score. Shilly-shally peace procedure may, in due passage of time, manage to ensnare an occasional culprit, who even then will doubtless wiggle free by virtue of the money he has so basely filched from the workman's purse and the ponderous technicalities of peace time law.

It is a serious situation and either these selfish, power- and money-mad hecklers, who have no regard for the universal misery they are promulgating, shall be brought up short with a sudden decisive jerk or the people may attempt to assume the power vested in their representatives and the devil will be to pay.

The case of the O. B. U. is an extravagant example of this selfishness. A few men with brains enough to conceive such an atrocious outrage knowing the strength of co-operation, attempted to put it to an illicit use. The government's stand in that relation was admirable, though rather backward at first. Swift, sure punishment should be dealt to the heartless, grasping leaders of such a movement. The sooner somebody is handed twenty years in prison the sooner the cure is accomplished and the quicker the commodities essential to existence will assume a level in ratio to production.

MAYOR WILLIAM'S ADDRESS TO THE PRINCE

To His Royal Highness, Edward Albert Christian George Andrew Patrick David, Prince of Wales and Earl of Chester, in the Peerage of the United Kingdom; Duke of Cornwall, in the Peerage of England; Duke of Rothesay, Earl of Carrick, and Baron of Renfrew, in the Peerage of Scotland; Lord of the Isles and Great Steward of Scotland, K. G.; G. M. M. G.; M. C.,

May it please your Royal Highness on this the occasion of your Royal Highness' first visit to the Dominion of Canada, the citizens of High River are indeed proud of the opportunity which you have afforded them to extend to you a hearty welcome.

High River for forty years has been one of the great cattle and horse ranching centres of the Dominion of Canada. The productive qualities of the soil have of late years shown our possibilities as grain growers, so that these vast industries enable us to greatly contribute to the larder of the Empire.

In the South African War a large number of Canadian troops were made up from the hardy riders of this ranching country. During the late War our men were again proud to enter the field for the furtherance of Right and the maintenance of British prestige.

We trust that your Royal Highness' visit to Canada may prove pleasant and profitable and that you may long be spared to the citizens of the Empire.

Assuring your Royal Highness of our humble and dutiful loyalty and attachment to the throne and to His most Gracious Majesty King George V. on behalf of the Town of High River, we have the honor to be, Sir, your Royal Highness' most obedient Servants,

Lewis Williams,
Mayor
Chas. A. Gigot,
Clerk

WILL GET GOOD RETURNS

Mr. Alvin Eby is cutting a crop of oats today that requires three pounds of twine to the acre. Five weeks ago there was no evidence of a crop but a heavy rainfall occurred and meanwhile the seed grew with the result that he will secure at the very least a ton and a half of the very best of fodder for his stock. Had he left the crop standing a little longer the chances are he would have harvested a crop of oats that would give a good yield per acre. However, with the scarcity of fodder Mr. Eby concluded to not take chances on a heavy frost. In the meantime there is a market for oat sheaves that will give the farmer at least $25 per ton for the same which is not a bad return for a dry year.
